The image displays two social media profiles. The top screenshot is the Facebook page for 'NZ Get Thru' (@NzGetThru), which features a blue header with the Civil Defence logo and a cartoon illustration of six diverse children in superhero costumes. The page includes a 'Home' tab, a 'Contact Us' button, and a post from 2 minutes ago announcing the cancellation of a tsunami warning for Wellington to Banks Peninsula. The bottom screenshot is the Twitter profile of 'MCDEM' (@NZcivildefence), showing a blue header with the Civil Defence logo and a bio that identifies the account as the official source for emergency updates from the NZ Ministry of Civil Defence and Emergency Management. The profile statistics show 761 tweets, 8 following, 47.1K followers, and 27 likes. A recent tweet from MCDEM provides road closure information following an earthquake, and a retweet from MarlboroughEmergency is also visible.

We've cancelled the tsunami warning in place for Wellington to Banks Peninsula.

Based on all available data, the tsunami threat has now passed.

But...coasts may still experience unusual, strong currents and sea level fluctuations lasting for several more hours. Please stay aware in and around coastal waters. ... See More
